CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

The Weekly Reset, pt 1 of 2 By: Chaplin McKay

The American way of life does violence to our souls...speed, accomplishments, productivity, perpetual stress, connectedness, efficiency, activity with a constant background noise of information and entertainment. We are seldom at rest.

I believe one of the simplest and hardest things we can do to replenish our body, soul and spirit is to practice the habit of weekly sabbath. Most major religions emphasize the need to withdraw weekly to reconnect with life's most important priorities.

Keeping the sabbath is getting into a sustainable rhythm of life. All around us are rhythms – circadian, seasons, hormonal, daily earth rotation of sunset, moonrise, etc. Many scientists believe we are to live in rhythmic awareness – to work and then rest, to be engrossed and then detached, be in and then step out. We can live without our inner rhythm – always going, always on, always available – but remember that no living thing lives like that.
