CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

NEWS UPDATE

The grass is always greener on the other side of the fence. We have often heard this saying and many of us have come to believe it. We live in a world of want. We want what we do not have. The sad truth is the grass is not always greener on the other side of the fence.

We ought to be content in the season that we are in. In every season of life there are ups and downs, mountains, and valleys. The way someone else's life looks in a moment, video, or picture does not capture nor present the fully story. It is our responsibly to be content in the different stages of life. The apostle Paul says;

Philippians 4:11-13 New International Version

¹¹I am not saying this because I am in need, for I have learned to be content whatever the circumstances. ¹²I know what it is to be in need, and I know what it is to have plenty. I have learned the secret of being content in any and every situation, whether well fed or hungry, whether living in plenty or in want. ¹³I can do all this through him who gives me strength.

Paul has learnt contentment. Being content does not mean no progress but what it means is trusting God's timing. So, if it takes a week, month, or year we are content in the season we are in. Everyone's seasons are different and what we encounter are different as well. Bruce Larson says it beautifully,

"In whatever state you are, you can learn to praise God. The point is nobody has it all. If you are single, you have certain privileges. You may doubt that, but it's true. You are in control of your life. Being married is a great blessing, but there are problems. The point is, you can choose to focus on the negative or the positive of every situation".

Questions:

Is the grass always greener on the other side?

Are you discontent with anything?

How can I be more content in my season?

Closing Thought:

Let us be content regardless of the season we are in because no season is a wrong season once God is present. Author: Chaplain Candidate Baron, Maxim

On August 3, 1990, President of the United States George H. W. Bush declared the month of November as National American Indian Heritage Month, also referred to as Native American Heritage Month. The bill read in part that "The President has authorized and requested to call upon Federal, State and local Governments, groups and organizations and the people of the United States to observe such month with appropriate programs, ceremonies and activities". This landmark bill honoring America's tribal people represented a major step in the establishment of this celebration which began in 1976 when a Cherokee/Osage Indian named Jerry C. Elliott-High Eagle authored Native American Awareness Week legislation the first historical week of recognition in the nation for native peoples. This led to 1986 with then President Ronald Reagan proclaiming November 23–30, 1986, as "American Indian Week".
