CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

Scripture: 1 Peter 5:7 (NIV) - "Cast all your anxiety on him because he cares for you."

In a world filled with uncertainty and challenges, anxiety can often feel overwhelming. Yet, this verse reminds us of a profound truth: we are not meant to carry our burdens alone. I have found that, God invites us to cast our anxieties on Him, highlighting His deep care for each of us. This act of casting isn't just a momentary release; it's a call to trust fully in His ability to handle our worries. It is also helpful to talk with a friend who listens well, pets I have found are also great listeners.

To "cast" means to throw off, to unload. It's an active choice we make to hand over our fears and concerns, recognizing that they are too heavy for us to bear. God's invitation to cast our anxieties also serves as a reminder of His unfailing love and support. He sees our struggles, understands our pain, and is ready to carry our burdens alongside us. Dear God, thank You for inviting me to cast my anxieties on You. Help me to let go of the worries that weigh me down and trust in Your care. Remind me daily of Your love and support and grant me peace during uncertainty. I place my concerns in Your hands, knowing that You are in control. Amen.- Chaplain Scott McKay -

A Brief Moment in Texas Military History

During World War II, the Eagle Pass Army Airfield emerged as a significant military installation, commencing operations on June 30, 1942, and concluding on May 1, 1945, spanning a duration of 2 years, 10 months, and 1 day totaling 1036 days. Camp Charlie was once a vital base camp supporting the OLS mission and was inaugurated on October 24, 2021. Closing on October 18, 2024, with an operational timeline of 2 years, 11 months, and 24 days totaling 1090 days. The operational timelines of these two military facilities bear striking resemblances, suggesting a shared tapestry of experiences across generations of soldiers, separated by 82 years.

For those who have served at these military installations, be it "Base Camps," "FOBs," or "Military Complexes," their deployments mark a transformative period, offering experiences that are often beyond the comprehension of those in civilian life. One of the most profound aspects of such service is the enduring bonds and connections forged during these deployments.

FOB Eagle's establishment as a new home for soldiers on the OLS Mission represents not just a continuation of tradition, but also an opportunity for service members to create their own stories and bonds.

As these soldiers embark on their journey, they contribute to a legacy that transcends time, building relationships and memories that will undoubtedly enrich the narrative of Texas military history.
