CHAPLAIN'S CORNER

Matthew 5:20–26

Troops, in today's Gospel Jesus teaches that IF A BROTHER HAS SOMETHING AGAINST US, we must be reconciled with him before we offer our gift at the altar. This reconciling requires a change of heart and mind.

The word often misleadingly translated as “repent” is metanoieite. This Greek term is based upon two words, meta (beyond) and nous (mind or spirit), and thus, in its most basic form, it means something like “go beyond the mind that you have.”

The English word “repent” has a moralizing overtone, suggesting a change in behavior or action, whereas Jesus’ term seems to be hinting at a change at a far more fundamental level of one’s being. Jesus urges his listeners to change their way of knowing, their way of perceiving and grasping reality, their mode of seeing.

What Jesus implies is this: a new state of affairs has arrived, the divine and human have met, but the way you customarily see is going to blind you to this novelty. Minds, eyes, ears, senses, perceptions—all have to be opened up, turned around, revitalized. Metanoia, mind transformation, is Jesus’ first recommendation.

REDEPLOYMENT RESOURCES: For Your Family Members & Loved Ones

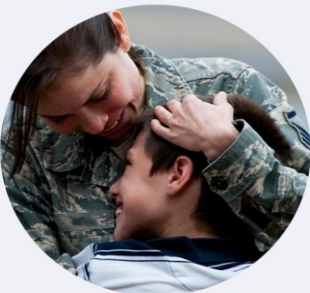

Mental Health After Deployment: What to Know and Where to Get Help

Returning home from deployment can be challenging in a variety of ways for service members. Not only will they be adjusting to a new routine, but they may also be wrestling with strong feelings of fear, sadness or helplessness from their experiences while deployed. While some combat and operational stress reactions are common and heal with time, others may require professional attention. By recognizing the warning signs and knowing how to get help, you and your service member can become more resilient in the face of reintegration challenges.

What to Expect: An Overview of Reunion and Reintegration

Deployment is coming to an end, and service members are finally heading home. Next comes the reunion and reintegration phase. There are five key stages within reunion and reintegration. Learn about the timeline and what you may expect during each stage.

Creating a New Normal as a Family

Even if your family has experienced deployment before, this time things may be different. Things may have changed, and it's okay if you're not able to go back to how things used to be, before the deployment. Focus on how you can make things comfortable and normal for the family.

Five Tips to Support Children During Reintegration

Returning home after deployment is exciting, but it can also be an adjustment for you and your loved ones. For children in particular, it may be emotional or confusing. To help your children with the transition, it's important to develop a plan that's personalized for their age, level of understanding and development stage.

U.S. ARMY'S 250TH BIRTHDAY

June 12, 2025 — Soldiers stationed at Forward Operating Base (FOB) Eagle came together to honor the 250th birthday of the United States Army with a spirited cake-cutting ceremony held in the dining facility. The event highlighted the Army's rich legacy and ongoing commitment to excellence, unity, and service. Captain Torres and Specialist Lopez were given the distinguished honor of cutting the ceremonial cake, a tradition that symbolizes the bond between generations of Soldiers—past and present.

Adding to the festive atmosphere was Eddie the Eagle, FOB Eagle's beloved mascot, who posed for photos with troops and handed out commemorative stickers as keepsakes. The celebration served as a meaningful reminder of the Army's enduring values and the sacrifice of all those who have served—and continue to serve—with pride, integrity, and courage.
