Strength for the Journey

"But those who hope in the Lord will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary; they will walk and not be faint." – Isaiah 40:31

Life often feels like a long journey with stretches of both joy and struggle. Some days, we wake up energized, ready to take on the world. Other days, we carry burdens that feel too heavy, our strength seemingly depleted. But Isaiah reminds us that when we place our hope in something greater than ourselves, we are renewed.

Strength doesn't always mean sprinting ahead without weariness. Sometimes, it looks like walking forward when giving up seems easier. It means taking one step, then another, even when the path ahead is unclear. Like an eagle that soars effortlessly on the wind, we are reminded that we don't have to rely on our own power alone.

Perhaps today, you feel exhausted by responsibilities, challenges, or uncertainty. Pause. Breathe. Remember that renewal comes not from striving harder but from trusting deeper. Strength is found in moments of stillness, in quiet prayers, in choosing to believe that there is grace for today and hope for tomorrow.

So, take heart—whether you are soaring, running, or simply walking forward, you are never alone. The journey is long, but strength is promised for every step.

Reflection: What is one way you can find renewal today?
