FOR IMMEDIATE PUBLIC RELEASE:

Texas National Guard Soldiers Deploy to Afghanistan

AUSTIN, Texas (May 25, 2016) – On Tuesday, May 31, 2016 at 10:00 a.m., the Texas Army National Guard will bid goodbye and good luck to various elements and members of the 36th Infantry Division as they mobilize to Afghanistan in support of Operation Freedom's Sentinel. The deployment ceremony will be held at Cameron Parade Field located at Battalion Ave. and 25th Street on Fort Hood, Texas.

While deployed the headquarters will provide training, advice and assistance for the Afghan National Defense and Security Forces, as well as the Afghan security institutions in order to promote the long-term success of the Afghan National Defense Security Forces and the sovereignty of the Afghan government.

This mission for the 36th Inf. Div. will mark the first time a National Guard unit will take over a regional command, from an active duty component, in Afghanistan within a combat environment.

“This is a historical deployment for the 36th Infantry Division and the Texas National Guard,” said Brig. Gen. Lee Henry, Task Force Commanding General. “The citizen-Soldiers representing Texas are experienced professionals who will bring a wealth of knowledge to the mission, demonstrating the National Guard’s level of diversity and ability to be a recognizable force alongside our active duty counterparts.”

Additionally, the unit will provide a tactical command headquarters and several train-advise-assist teams at various locations in Afghanistan. Currently, the U.S. military contributes to the NATO Resolute Support mission to provide support to the Afghan National Defense and Security Forces as they assume full responsibility for security throughout their own country.

The 36 Infantry Division's forward deploying unit will integrate U.S. Army, U.S. Air Force, Australian Army and Department of the Army Civilians within the headquarters command elements. Following some additional training, the unit will deploy for overseas sometime this summer.

In the event of inclement weather the event will take place at the Abrams Physical Fitness Center, located at 62nd St. & Support Ave., Fort Hood, Texas. For more information, contact 36th Infantry Division Public Affairs Office, Maj. Randall Stillinger, at (512) 782-5259 or the state public affairs office at 512-782-5620; email ng.tx.txarng.mbx.pao@mail.mil.
